

If a Disaster Strikes, Will You Be Ready?

Huffmaster Crisis Management Solutions prepare you for natural disasters

Without a thorough disaster recovery plan in place, your company could be among the more than 70% of businesses that fail to re-open following hurricanes, flooding or other disasters.

That's why so many companies rely on Huffmaster for disaster planning and response services. Huffmaster has more than 45 years of experience in crisis management, and in the aftermath of 2005's catastrophic storms, we once again proved our reputation as the nation's leading crisis management resource.

From reviewing your existing recovery plans to providing uniformed security and self-contained disaster response units, we can deliver the support and services necessary to keep your business safe during the recovery time.

Disaster Planning

Plan Review:

Huffmaster gives a clear vision of your disaster plan's strengths and weaknesses, and identifies those details that stand between success and failure.

Plan Development:

Our experts develop recovery plans that can be updated regularly and can readily accommodate change in your organization.

Plan Exercise: Testing helps you refine your plan and train your team. From simple tabletop reviews to full-scale exercises, Huffmaster keeps your plan up-to-date and your team ready.

Security Response

Command & Control:

Huffmaster provides experienced and highly-trained command officers, including project managers, post supervisors and response coordinators.

Security Coordination:

Retired law enforcement officers recruited by Huffmaster lead security efforts and coordinate with local public service officials.

Uniformed Security:

Experienced uniformed officers serve as your visual deterrent to protect your people and property from violence, looting or damage.

Armed Officers:

Because disaster areas are inherently dangerous, Huffmaster's armed officers are positioned to protect high-value assets and escort recovery teams.

Disaster Recovery

Self-Contained Capabilities:

Huffmaster teams arrive on the scene fully self sufficient not only with generators, food, fuel and water, but also with sleeping, shower and restroom facilities.

Mobile Command Posts:

Huffmaster mobile command posts are equipped with satellite phones and dishes for Internet access, as well as localized communication tools.

Support Equipment:

Huffmaster support equipment may include vehicles, tent and shower/bathroom trailers, as well as laptop computers, fax machines, printers and wireless phones.
